

LOS_DAMA! Local Pilots

The City of Munich is working together with three intermunicipal associations to enhance the realisation of diverse green spaces in and around the city. Building trust and good visualization are key topics.

Grenoble-Alpes Métropole initiates partnership seminars to gather stakeholders, a master school for decision-makers, experimental workshops to design a fully integrated policy for peri-urban spaces and an innovative approach to improve the management of recreational parks.

Together with stakeholders, the City of Vienna and the neighbouring municipality of Gerasdorf are developing a landscape plan and a plan of action to strengthen the multifunctionality of the landscape.

The Salzburg Institute for Regional Planning and Housing is activating the "Open Space Fund" to facilitate regional compensation measures in the greenbelt and other areas surrounding the City of Salzburg.

The City of Trento is acting to change perception and accessibility of peri-urban open spaces as common assets. It is working for and with citizens and schools through a series of 'exploration', 'cultivation' and 'dissemination' actions.

The Piedmont Region is defining an ecosystem-based approach to the sustainable planning and management of green infrastructures in the Turin metropolitan area.

In cooperation with stakeholders, UIRS is endeavouring to address conflicts and synergies between recreation and nature protection in the Ljubljana Marsh Nature Park area, as well as to apply the green infrastructure concept.

Green infrastructure for better living

Landscape and Open Space Development in Alpine Metropolitan Areas

European Regional Development Fund

The LOS_DAMA! project “Landscape and Open Space Development in Alpine Metropolitan Areas” focuses its attention on the “unspectacular” Alpine landscapes on our doorstep. These valuable green spaces in and around our cities are exposed to heavy development pressures and a variety of demands. We are therefore cooperating to protect liveable open spaces while also connecting people and green spaces throughout the Alpine region.

In seven pilot areas in our urban regions, we are collaborating with stakeholders and citizens. Together, we are seeking ways to safeguard, enhance and manage our peri-urban landscapes.

In addition, LOS_DAMA! has established close cooperation with Action Group 7 to implement the European Strategy for the Alpine Region (EUSALP), which aims at developing ecological connectivity across the whole EUSALP territory.
